

What's NEW at the Teachers' Toolkit website?

It might be autumn, but the Teachers' Toolkit website has had a spring clean!

Now easier to navigate and with NEW features, the Teachers' Toolkit website now offers teachers even more trusted support. The new left side panel allows you to quickly and easily find the resources and links you really want — and quickly.

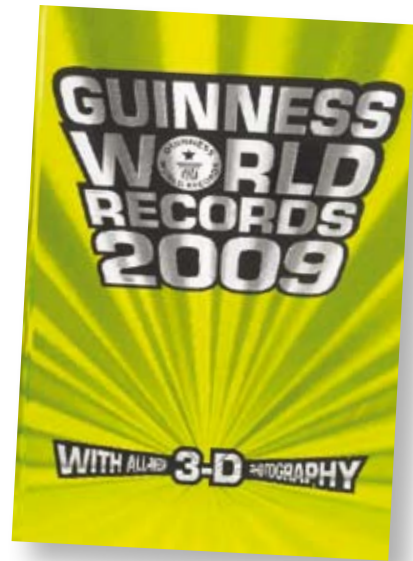

Take a look at our new and enhanced features, and our huge range of teaching teaching resources — now even easier to download:

- NEW Homework Activities: Weekly activities for middle and upper primary students
- NEW Notice Board: Find all the latest Teachers' Toolkit news and other special events
- NEW Bookmarking Tool

- Lesson Plans: Search or browse to find individual lesson plans from the magazines and elsewhere
- Clickable links to explore, bookmark and share
- Magazines: Every issue of Teachers' Toolkit available for download
- Newsletters: View the latest and archived newsletters, packed with additional resources
- Other Resources: A searchable database of individual resource links and references from the magazines and elsewhere
- Education News: Regular news feeds from EDNA.

Plus, you'll still find all the other regular features that are well-known to users.

Register now — it's FREE — and become a member of the Teachers' Toolkit community today. Don't miss out on our newsletters, special offers and other additional features.

Those who register during the month of June get the opportunity to receive a copy of Guinness World Records 2009.
