What is the key message/s conveyed to you by the Get Moving symbols?
Would this symbol be a useful if displayed on food products in a school canteen?
Would it be helpful to signify additional nutritional information in the symbol, by way of colour coding or by highlighting the beneficial components of the food? (For example, if the food contained additional folate or calcium, omega 3 oil, reduced salt etc.)? If so why?
Would you support legislation to include the Get Moving symbols on food packages?
